THEO6311  Issues in Dispensational Hermeneutics

Guest Lecturer: Dr. Elliott Johnson

I. Course Description:
This course is an examination of the contemporary issues in dispensational hermeneutics. Method charts the course for theology, and even in dispensational thought there is significant diversity in method. This course will examine some of the current trends and controversies in regard to method, and will consider also the ramifications for dispensational theology.

II. Course Objectives
1. Students should be able to cite specific consequences of employing variant hermeneutic methods
2. Students should understand and be able to defend the distinction between Israel and the church.
3. Students should have a greater appreciation for Christ and His work – not only His redemptive work on behalf of church age believers, but also in His theocratic relationship with Israel.

III. Course Textbooks
Required Texts:
- Herbert Bateman IV, ed., Three Central Issues in Contemporary Dispensationalism, Kregel, 1999
- ISBN 0-8254-2062-8

Recommended Texts:

IV. Evaluation of Student Performance
1. Class Attendance – for Campus students, due to the concentrated nature of the lectures, one unexcused class absence will reduce final grade by a letter grade. A 2nd unexcused absence will result in an additional research assignment required for a passing grade. A 3rd unexcused absence will result in a failing grade. Online students must listen to the recorded lectures in their entirety and must fulfill all other format-specific requirements in order to receive a passing grade, including occasional interaction with the Advising Professor/Instructor. If the Online student is not responsive to Advising Professor/Instructor communication, the student may become inactive and receive a grade of incomplete on the course (I).

2. Reading Assignments and Accountability – All students will complete reading assignments as scheduled, and will write a one page summary of each assigned reading.

3. Research Assignments – All students will write three 8-10 page papers, on any three of the following issues:
   1. Define and justify literal hermeneutics
   2. Discuss Christ in the Old Testament
   3. Consider the distinction between Israel and the church, with particular focus on how far that distinction extends
   4. Discuss alternative hermeneutic methods in dispensational thought, and consider specific consequences

4. Course Exams – There are no exams for this course

5. Online Interaction – Online students will have three online assignments each module: (1) email reading accountability to the Advising Professor/Instructor; (2) E-mail a brief (50-75 words) observation of a key point from that module’s lecture; and (3) respond to Advising Professor/Instructor questions and observations.

6. Campus students will submit assignments as directed by the Professor.
   Online Students will submit assignments directly to the Advising Professor/Instructor.

Writing Guidelines
All research papers and theses are to follow Turabian guidelines as found in Kate L. Turabian A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations 7th Ed. (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2007). All students are required to purchase a copy of A Manual for Writers to ensure the proper format. All work is to follow these guidelines:

1. Font & Font Size: Times New Roman, 12 point
2. Double space
3. 1-inch margins (File – Page Setup – Margins)
4. Indent paragraphs .5 inch (Format – Paragraph – Indent left)
5. Page numbers – lower center or upper right –beginning with the first page of text, but not on title page; Arabic numbers only (e.g., 1, 2; not Roman numerals; no other header or footer
6. Title page; then title again on page one (for formal papers)
7. In essay-type papers, ALWAYS write logically, persuasively, focused on the assigned topic; include a succinct introduction that informs the reader concerning the subject of your paper, and a succinct conclusion that summarizes your main points and expresses your resulting conclusion.
8. Use footnotes rather than endnotes, except in dissertation/thesis, where section endnotes are also acceptable.
9. All work should be proofread, as errors in spelling, grammar, and syntax will reduce assignment grade.
